

KIDS 'N' THINGS

For over 20 years, churches and schools across the UK have benefited from a vibrant OM ministry, Kids 'n' Things.

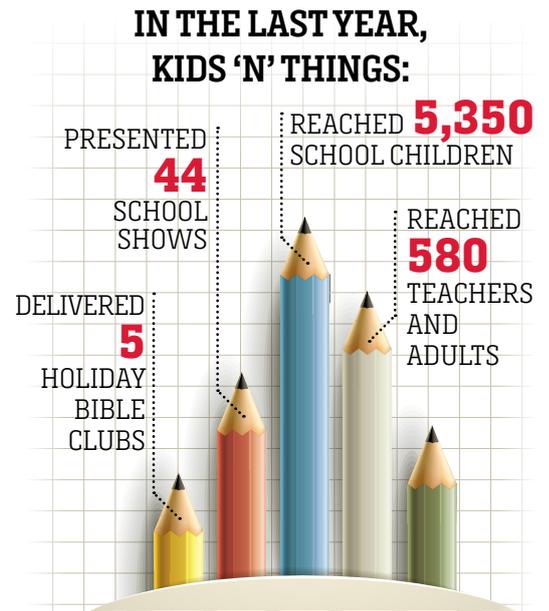

Reaching thousands of children every year, this small team of three is led by ministry coordinator, Julian Wolton. His team are all passionate about creatively delivering the Gospel to children.

"It is widely agreed that 60-80% of all responses to the Gospel are made before the age of 12," states Julian, underlining the importance of children's ministry. "We strongly believe that if children know and understand the truth about Jesus, many of them will choose to follow Him both now and for the rest of their lives."

"The current generation needs to have the Gospel message presented in a way that really holds their attention and the Kids 'n' Things team achieves this vision in many creative ways."

SCHOOL SHOWS

Coinciding with the periods of Christmas and Easter, Kids 'n' Things perform 30-minute theatre shows in primary schools. These professionally presented shows fulfil the Religious Education requirements for children in many UK schools, giving the team the opportunity to reach children who have little to no understanding of who Jesus is.

Each meticulously prepared performance is packed with puppet songs, stories, mime, drama and of course, a clear Christian message.

LIONHEART HOLIDAY CLUBS

As if term-time wasn't busy enough, Kids 'n' Things run a two-hour programme across five days during school holidays. Facilitated in partnership with local churches across the UK, the primary aim is to show children that God is real, relevant, and wants to get involved in their everyday lives. Lionheart also provides churches with the opportunity to strengthen their relationship within their local communities.

At the age of nine, former participant, Ruth, witnessed Lionheart's impact: "It was in the Lionheart club when all this stuff about God and Jesus started making sense to me." Now in her 20's, Ruth is a children's worker and is passing on to the next generation the faith that she developed through her interaction with OM's Kids 'n' Things.
